

Getting a Research Computing Account – <http://rc.rit.edu>

In order to get an account with Research Computing, you'll need to first log in to <http://rc.rit.edu/apply>. Upon successful login, your account will be created and access to Research Computing will be granted.

Please see Connecting to Research Computing Systems with SSH for more information on how to begin using the Research Computing Cluster.